

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6

It isn't often that buyers can secure goods at wholesale prices, but we offer that chance while they last on an exceptionally good line of pocket books and purses. This lot comprised the samples of a "drummer" for a large wholesale house and we bought them two months ago for delivery June 1st. The important point is that they were sold to us at one-third (1/3) off the wholesale price, so that we can sell them at the price dealers ordinarily have to pay and still realize a small profit. They are going fast. Don't expect to have one in stock after next Saturday.

June, the month of roses. Oil market closed at $1.25. Ice cream soda at Killmer's. Oil and gas leases at this office. How do you like the "New Way?" Bread, fresh every day, at Amsters. If you smoke a pipe, and wish to buy one look over Killmer's stock. Hart Lawrence has a new tandem Stormer wheel and it is a "beaut." The owners of chickens causing trouble to gardeners may be sued for damages. There are those who can put on more "lug" with a toilet than others can with a ten-canter. The base ball boys look well in their new suits. Now if they can keep them from getting soiled with lost games all will be well. Bark peeling season is here and the wages that will be paid to the workmen this year range from $2.00 to $2.50 per day and board. Clearfield Journal. Home grown strawberries are coming into the market and now is the time to look out for nice berries for canning. Amster handles the best and his prices are always the lowest. The school that gives inspiration for a higher life and nobler effort, as well as for acquiring knowledge and skill is a blessing to its students. Such a school is the Clarion State Normal. The M. E. Congregation of Titusville is to build a new church which will cost $25,000, $10,000 of which has been contributed by John D. Archbold of New York, a former citizen of Titusville. Following is a list of letters remaining un-called for in the Tionesta, Pa., post office for the week ending June 6, 1900: Mr. John Hill, Miss Adda Faulk. D. S. Knox, P. M. "Next Sunday," announced a preacher in a neighboring town, "there will be services in the morning in the East End, and in the evening in the West End. Children will be baptized at both ends." Punx's Spirit. Don't forget that the ladies of the P. H. M. S. will serve ice cream and cake at the Killmer building this evening, and invite you to call. Proceeds towards furnishing the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church. A disease which the veterinarians call catarrhal fever, is prostrating a great many horses in this section and in some instances has proved fatal. The trouble somewhat resembles epizootic, but need not be so severe if properly looked after in time. We were pleased to note that our esteemed old friend Daniel Black was able to come to town on Memorial Day. Mr. Black is considerably past the "three score years and ten" mark, and is very feeble and totally blind, but he is still full of patriotism. J. T. O'Rourke was down from Mayburg Monday on business. He just closed an arrangement with the Watson Land Lumber Co., whereby he will remain and have charge of the firm's large hand saw mill at that place for a season or two longer. Bass fishing, which began legally last Wednesday, has been fairly good. Thus far, we believe little Sammy Haslet has the best, he having lifted out seven nice ones in one evening down by the creek dam. There isn't any sport that beats bass fishing—when they'll bite. Hopkins sells the clothing and shoes.

I have a new type-writer, and it is my delight to part on it daily. And write, and write! It aids me in my labors! When I'm in working vein it makes a GREAT improvement! I write so VERY plain. It operates so VERYLY. (that when you find you're STUCK!) and cannot find the letter. Just jab and trust to luck! To operate it then; $6.40. Now where on earth's that coin? x x x x x Give me back my ink and pen! -Baltimore American.

County Treasurer Henry begins the sale of lands for tax arrears next Monday, June 11th. A large number have stepped up to the captain's desk and settled since the advertising of the list, but there still remains quite a goodly number of tracts to be disposed of under the hammer. No trace of the East Brady bank robbers has been found and it is hardly probable they ever will be. The men who committed the deed are evidently old hands at the business and have covered up their tracks so well that not the slightest clue as to their identity can be found. -Eminton Herald. The census enumerators started on their rounds last Friday. It is expected the work will be completed within two weeks, but it is more than likely to take the greater portion of June to finish. The country districts are not so easily gotten over, and the enumerators must have time to do their work right. While fishing on Tionesta Creek Thursday, a couple of Kane fishermen encountered a large black bear. Being unarmed they made no attempt to molest Bruin, who is said to have been one of the largest bears ever seen in that vicinity. -Titusville Courier. Ends just like all other fish stories. The largest got away. At the Centre county Democratic primaries last Saturday J. W. Kepler, a former Tionesta boy won the nomination for Assembly by a very large majority, having 64 out of 85 delegates. Will's Forest county friends will be pleased to read of his success, for a Democratic nomination in Centre county practically means election, and since we must have some Democrats in the legislature we are glad to know they are to be good ones. Judge Simonton, of Dauphin county, has declared the side-path law passed by the recent Legislature to be unconstitutional on the grounds that it conflicts with that part of the constitution which declares that the Legislature cannot delegate powers to make municipal improvements to a commission. The court is of the opinion that there are other clauses of the bill which conflict with the constitution, but the one quoted is sufficient. E. W. Smiley, the veteran editor of the Citizen-Press, Franklin, announces his withdrawal from the management of that solid and substantial journal in last week's issue. Mr. Smiley has been at the helm for upwards of 30 years, during which time he has built up a splendid newspaper plant, and his retirement at this time is in order that he may give more attention to other branches of business. His son, J. Howard Smiley, becomes editor and manager in chief, and in his keeping the paper will not suffer. Success to both father and son. Here is one of the weather forecaster's predictions for June, and it is probably as nearly correct as any of them: Heavy storms with hail and destructive winds from 1st to 5th, dangerous gales and heavy rains from 6th to 10th; electrical storms from 11th to 18th; high temperature from 19th to 24th; hail storms, water spouts and floods over Central Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Middle Atlantic States, with cool temperature over lake region during the remainder of the month. The month will be one of the hottest Junes in many years. The rainfall will be about the usual average in most sections. Memorial Day was fittingly observed in Tionesta and vicinity, Capt. George Stow Post and Woman's Relief Corps taking the initiative and carrying through the program mapped out for the occasion in a proper manner. A detail of the Post and Corps was sent to the Zuendel and Mt. Zion church-yards, German Hill early in the morning and with friends and citizens of that community appropriately decorated the graves of the deceased comrades. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, headed by the cornet band the line of march was taken up, and comrades and citizen repaired to Riverside where the ritual ceremonies were carried out, after which the people assembled at the court house and listened to the fine oration delivered by W. W. Wilber Esq., of Warren, thus completing another annual commemoration of the heroism of the brave boys in blue who have answered the last bugle call.

The Forest County National Bank people moved into their elegant new home last Saturday, and are now waiting on their many customers within the walls of that model structure. It is doubtful whether a handsomer or more convenient bankbuilding can be found in the State, out side of the cities of Pittsburgh or Philadelphia at least, than this one, and the people of Tionesta are all proud of it. Would that we had fifty more such pieces of architecture in our midst. Newspaper men often wonder how the men they buy their paper and other material from, would do if the publisher would act as his subscribers do. That is, have no specified time for paying and how long these men would stand sending bill after bill and request upon request and no attention whatever paid to it. Our bills must be cash or at the most 60 days which has generally, since the raise in paper, been reduced to 30 days. Now we nor no other publisher can do business in this way. To send out papers every week in and year out and pay cash and receive no return, a man should have a bank account to draw on of very large proportions. -Ex. The work of tearing down the old Kinzua bridge preparatory to the erection of a heavier structure is now under full way. A large force of men is working every day in the week, Sunday included, through all kinds of weather. The men are well paid, receiving 50 cents an hour, and work eleven hours. The work is hazardous and it will not be surprising if some one is hurt before it is completed. Already one man has had a narrow escape. He fell from a height of 100 feet, but caught a dangling rope and slid down on that. The friction burned his hands to the bone. Arrangements have been made for telegraphic communication with Bradford, so that in case of accident medical assistance can be quickly summoned. -Bradford Star. The high school nine of Oil City came up last Wednesday afternoon and helped the Tionesta club to dedicate their new baseball grounds. The game was a little top-sid to be real interesting, though the playing was of a rather high order for the first of the season, and indicates that Tionesta has about the best nine now that she has had for several years. The Oil City boys took their defeat gracefully and were much gratified at the cordiality of their reception and treatment here. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning owing to the rain, when the score stood 11 to 0 in favor of Tionesta. With the fine grounds and number of handy fellows with ball and bat which Tionesta now holds, we should see some nice games this season.

Oil Notes.

Reek & Co., finished their well on the Beatty farm, Hunter Run, last Saturday, but it failed to respond with oil. They drilled to the third sand. The Jamieson Run Oil Co's., well on the Suttley place, Jamieson Run, which was drilled to the third sand came in dry. This company has a location on the head of Sowers run, some distance south, from this dry hole, on which they expect to operate soon. Patterson, on the Booher farm, below Hunter station finished a dry hole Monday. The drilling rig is being moved to another location. Heath & Killmer and Wolcott & Son brought in a 50 barrel well on their Faintown lease last Friday, and another small producer was brought in on the same lease Monday. Scofield & Co., on the Hay tract, Hickory twp., got a duster yesterday, but are not discouraged and will give the tract a further test.

Death of Mrs. S. S. Towler.

Clara Blood Hunt, daughter of the late Col. John B. and Marlen Blood Hunt, was born at Marienville, August 28, 1848, and died at the same place, Sabbath morning, June 3, 1900. It does seem, as we make record of this death, that the news conveyed to us by telephone must prove a sad and unpleasant dream. This noble life was among us like a rare and costly flower. With not much noise or ado, her loveliness of character, and sweet influence were wafted like the beauty and fragrance of the lily to all who chanced to know her. And as she is one of Forest county's own daughters, and has long been identified with its many beneficiaries, her going from us, when she is so much needed, is lamented throughout the county. There is scarcely a household, in which she was known, where there is not the most profound sorrow, for she was not only widely known, but loved by all who knew her. The eldest granddaughter of Hon. Cyrus Blood, a most scholarly gentleman and the honored founder of Forest county, she was admitted upon the stage of action in time to share some of the privations of the pioneer. Educational advantages were limited to the meager opportunities of a newly settled country, but her brave mother, a lady of energy and culture directed her education till she was 14 years of age when she was sent to a young ladies' seminary in Brookville, conducted by Miss Stewart. She afterwards attended Miss Keppley's school, a seminary for young ladies in Stratonsville, Pa., and later the Moravian Seminary at Bethlehem, Pa., graduating from this institution in 1865. Among her class-mates was the young lady who afterwards became the wife of the celebrated lecturer, John G. Wooley. The separation of mother and daughter during the school-life at Bethlehem, in those days of the stage-coach, was most heroic, but it only brought out in both the brilliancy of their sterling worth. The inborn refinement, which Miss Hunt possessed in marked degree, was cultivated by a liberal education and by the associations which attended her school-life, and proved her worthy of her distinguished lineage. We might give an interesting sketch of the life of her illustrious grandfather, or of her father who is associated with her grandfather in the history of Forest county and who served in the legislature of Pennsylvania, in connection with that of hers, but she herself has left a record of which her family may feel justly proud. After graduating, she taught school at Marienville, was teacher in the Reid Institute, Reidsburg, Pa., and in the Moravian Seminary from which she graduated. On May 20, 1874, Miss Hunt became the wife of Samuel S. Towler, M. D., a son of Rev. William Towler who was sent, in 1845, by special request, from Manchester, England to New York City, to take charge of American Methodist Missions. It was a happy union and the homelife of this well-mated, educated, intellectual, Christian couple was a model of the ideal American home, and their home, which has been in Marienville, with the exception of a four year's residence (74-'78) at Millerstown, Butler county, was always a delightful place to visit on account of the charming hospitality and the cordial welcome extended by the companionable host and hostess. Two sons and two daughters came to bless and to brighten the lives of these good people, but the tender Shepherd took Lewis and Marlen into His care and keeping before the way became rough and weary. Their daughter Maude, wife of Alva E. Stonecipher, M. D., and son Harold are still living, and over their growth and training, the mother watched with wise solicitude. Mrs. Towler was a sweet and gracious lady whose charm proceeded from her wish to make those around her happy. She was unselfishly delighted with all honors conferred upon her husband. Whatever advance he made in life, she was beside him—an assistance he repaid with tender watchfulness for her happiness—and no doubt her own high character helped to develop his career. Her affection for her mother who survives her, and her only brother, Cyrus F. Hunt, Esq., was beautiful, and how well she filled her station as wife, mother, daughter, sister and friend, those only can tell who knew her in these relations. In this quiet sphere she found her joy, and here her gentle but powerful influence was deeply and constantly felt. To win such love as she won in life, to leave behind so dear a memory as she left, is not the lot of every one. The good she has done—the influence of her life will be more lasting than the towering oak of the forest, or the polished block of granite. A member of the Presbyterian church since 14, her life was a constant witness for Christ. In her home, a room was specially furnished and kept for their non-resident pastor, where he might always feel he had a home. She was the faithful Cor. Sec. of the Y. P. S. C. E., of Marienville since its organization; a member of the Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church; an active worker in the Children's Aid Society; a teacher in the Sunday School; a charter member of the Daughters of Rebecca; a member of the Alumnae Association of the Moravian Seminary; Supt. of the Band of Mercy, and Rec. Sec., of the county W. C. T. U. Suddenly, it seems, this beautiful life is ended although for many months her continued ill health was a never ceasing cause of anxiety to her family. But after only two days' serious illness, during which husband and children, mother and brother watched with agonized longing for one more word of love from the lips that had never uttered any but lovely and loving words, she passed into the unseen realm for which her life had so well fitted her to enter, and the spirit of one "pure in heart" was permitted to look upon the splendor of the New Jerusalem. The funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. Hugh F. Earsman of Edinburg, assisted by Rev. J. V. McAninch, of Tionesta, Rev. A. S. Stewart of Redclyffe, and Rev. Frampton of Marienville. The discourse which followed the remains to the cemetery was doubtless the largest ever witnessed in Marienville.

The services of an expert cutter is yours here and when your suit has passed his inspection no one can tell it was not made to order. The latest thing in clothes is the new striped flannel suits and golf trousers (not wicker-bockers) but trousers worn long turned up bottoms.
